Summer of Wonder: Every Hero Has a Story is here!

The Summer of Wonder: Every Hero Has a Story summer reading program for all ages is here! It's free, it's fun, and now everyone can participate!

You might think Summer Reading is just for kids, but did you know that we have programs offered by our Community Sidekicks (every hero needs a sidekick, you know!) for adults, too? From bike camping 101 to composting and cross-stitch, there is something for everyone with this year's program. See page 19 for a sample of adult programs we have to offer.

Be on the lookout and get your game on!

A brand new summer reading game with multiple ways to win prizes!

- 1 Log your summer reading by building your own superhero avatar on fcpl.org/summer.
- 2 Participate online at fcpl.org/summer and complete the 16 challenges throughout the summer. Complete the extra 17th challenge for a chance to win a superhero prize pack.
- 3 Find Summer of Wonder code signs in local businesses, parks, and organizations. Enter the code from the signs online to collect even more points.

Need some title suggestions? Check out suggested booklists created by FCPL, Frederick County Public Schools, and the Curious Iguana to pick just the right title for your summer reading.

Visit fcpl.org/summer or any FCPL branch to register and for more information.

Summer Reading Program Prizes

GRAND PRIZE: Cunningham Falls State Park Camping Getaway with full camping gear package included!

Kids up to age 12, complete your gameboard or 16 online challenges to be entered to win. Teens and adults are also eligible to be entered into the drawing by completing the 16 online challenges.

A winner will be drawn from each category (child, teen, and adult) for the camping getaway to Cunningham Falls State Park.*

Trip must be redeemed between September 8 and October 25, 2015.*

More Great Prizes

- » Frederick Keys game with skybox seating
- » Curious Iguana bookstore gift card
- » Superhero prize pack

Calling all kids and teens! Register before July 15 to be entered to win skybox seating for four at the August 2nd Frederick Keys game.

Adults registering before July 15 are entered to win a Curious Iguana Bookstore gift card.

But wait, there's more! Complete 17 or more challenges online and be entered for a chance to win a superhero prize pack. There will be one winner per age category of child, teen, and adult.

Other Great Prizes

- » FCPL backpack
- » Four tickets to the Maryland Science Center

Our STEM Labs Are Growing!

Brand New STEM Labs Coming to FCPL Branches This Summer

By popular demand! Thurmont, Urbana, and Brunswick branches will soon feature STEM labs! Each lab will include a 3D printer, 3Doodler 3D printing pens, microscopes, Snap Circuits, iPad minis, and more. All labs will have “open hours” for children and teens, ages preschool–18, and their families, to explore independently. The new STEM labs will also be an exciting backdrop for brand new enrichment programs and events led by FCPL staff. What better way to celebrate C. Burr Artz STEM lab first year anniversary on June 20th than to open more STEM labs!

The Big Read

The Things They Carried – Tim O'Brien

In its 10th year, The Big Read is coming to Frederick County! The program was designed to restore reading to the center of American culture through community-wide reading programs. FCPL has partnered with Maryland Public Television to celebrate The Big Read book, The Things They Carried by Tim O'Brien. This semi-autobiographical account of a young platoon on a battlefield in the Vietnam War will be the topic of conversation at various events between May 15–June 14.

Beat the Heat in the FCPL Maryland Room

Do you need a break from the heat? Do you want to spend time with your kids while doing something educational and fun? We have the perfect resource for you!

The Maryland Room in the C. Burr Artz Public Library contains a complete local history research collection. Materials are actively collected documenting Maryland's economic, social, political, cultural, and religious history, along with the genealogy of Maryland's residents and the Civil War. These resources will help you learn more about your family's history, the town or state that you live in, and much, much more!

Page 20 On My Night Stand:

On My Nightstand

KEVIN MCMANUS
WFMD News Reporter

The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich by William L. Shirer, 2011.

This is a 1600-page book, but a very easy read. Shirer was a newspaper and later broadcast journalist for the CBS Radio Network. He lived in Germany and witnessed the rise of the Nazi Party and Adolph Hitler. This provided him—and the reader—with a wealth of detail, including Hitler's Munich Beer Hall Putsch in the 1920's, his imprisonment and his eventual rise to power.

Shirer had access to much of the archives of the Nazis, and spent five-and-a-half years shifting through them in writing this fascinating book, which has been republished several times.

Dead Wake: The Last Crossing of the Lusitania by Erik Larson, 2015.

Dead Wake covers the sinking of the passenger ship Lusitania, which was on a cruise from New York to Liverpool when it was sunk by a torpedo from a German U-Boat on May 7th, 1915. The voyage was almost at an end when the sinking occurred and 1,195 out of 1,959 lost their lives.

World War I was raging in Europe and other parts of the world, but even during wartime, many civilians had thought that it was not civilized to attack passenger ships which were not armed.

However, the German Embassy had taken out an advertisement in American newspapers cautioning anyone boarding the Lusitania that any ship in the waters around Britain and Ireland were fair game for its U-Boats. This incident destroyed that notion of war being waged on a civilized basis, and almost brought the US into World War I.

This book is currently on the best-sellers list, and I would recommend it for any interested reader, as this is the 100th anniversary of the event.

JANET VOGEL
Youth Services Coordinator, Frederick County Public Libraries

I typically read multiple books at the same time, including one by my nightstand and one book on CD in my car. I try to read a variety of types of books so that I can recommend them to friends, colleagues, or children who visit the library. Lately, I have been reading a lot of historical and historical fiction titles.

Currently, I am listening to The Things they Carried by Tim O'Brien, which is The Big Read selection for FCPL and MPT. This collection of semi-autobiographical short stories follows infantrymen and shares their experience in the Vietnam War. It is a powerful book that was also recommended to me a few years ago by one of my students when I was teaching a college course about United States history.

As a youth services librarian, I also keep up with popular books for children and teens. My current choice is The Family Romanov by Candace Fleming. This award-winning title details the fall of the Romanov family in early-20th century Russia and also shares the plight of peasants living in this difficult time period. Using photographs, letters, and other primary sources, this title demonstrates the increasingly high quality of nonfiction being produced for young people today.
